SUPREME COURT. MONDAY.
The following is we believe the last case of contempt of Court in this colony, previous to the one lately decided in the Supreme Court, which we reprint from the Sydney Gazette and New South Wales Advertiser, Monday, July 14th, 1869.

"Sumner, July 12th.—Pursuant to an order in Court to that effect made on Friday, Mr. Robert Jones, the editor and proprietor of the Sydney Gazette, appeared this morning, to answer an alleged contempt of Court, committed in the publication of certain articles which appeared in the Sydney Gazette of the 11th instant, in reference to an application made to the Court in the case of the King in the prosecution of Henry O'Farrell, against Robert Jones.

Immediately after the Judge had taken their seats upon the bench, the Chief Justice drew the attention of the Court to the case which stood first in disposal, and, observing that Mr. Jones was in attendance, called upon him to state whether he was prepared to answer to what the Court considered a contempt in the publication alluded to. Mr. Jones, in a few words, after admitting the fact of the publication, disclaimed all intention to disparage, or to impugn, on the Court in the strictures complained of; which in a British colony, and enjoying the freedom of the Press, he submitted, as a public matter, he had a right to say, and that he was not prepared to retract, or to make even on the decision of a Court of Justice, so long as the issue was offered candidly, dispassionately, and without any imputation of partiality or other corrupt motives. Mr. Jones, after observing on the question which universally obtained in the other country of canvassing, not only the decision of Judges, but the Acts of the Legislature itself, put in an affidavit in which he most explicitly denied the intention of conveying the meaning which the construction of the Court had placed on the publication in question, and expressing his regret, as the opinion of the Judges seemed to be, that it was disrespectful and contemptuous, and calculated to impede the course of justice, that it had ever appeared.

"The Chief Justice, Mr. Justice Dowling, and Mr. Justice Stephen then severally delivered their opinions as to the contempt in the publication, and the attention of the Court had been directed, in the course of which their Honors referred to those particular passages in the article which, according to the construction of the Court was alleged to impugn upon them, were of the most offensive character, and concluded by expressing their decided conviction that the publication, taken altogether, came within that category for which, by the laws of this colony, punishment is inflicted in the Court for contempt of Court. Mr. Jones again positively denied the intention imputed to him in the publication, and regretted that their Honors should have arrived at a conclusion to which he was so much opposed, as the fair exercise of a right of expressing a difference of opinion on a question which had already been moved before, and ruled by their Honors was all he had in contemplation.

"The Court, under all the circumstances of the case, ordered the defendant to pay a fine of forty shillings to the King, and to enter into his own recognizances for his good behaviour for twelve months."

SYDNEY VOLUNTEER FIRE COMPANY, No. 2.—The members of the No. 2 Volunteer Fire Company had a picnic yesterday, at Botany. The picnic was held at the station in Elizabeth-street, whence they proceeded round the city with their steam and manual engines, under the direction of their respective Commanders. When they had finished their picnic, they returned to the city, and having been joined by a number of honorary members and their friends they went out to Mr. Corry's famous tea-table. Both engines and drivers were found to be in admirable order, and ready for any emergency that may arise. After indulging in some recreative sports for an hour, the company retired to a spacious tent where they partook of a well served luncheon. Mr. W. Camlin presided. Several toasts, including those of her Majesty the Queen, the Royal Family, the Governor, and the members of the Legislative Council, were drunk. After spending a most agreeable and pleasant day the party returned to Sydney at an early hour on the evening.

MR. SUMNER'S CONDUCT.—Mr. Sebastian Rogers' recent case off with great effect last night, at the Theatre Royal, Sydney. The reserved seats were well filled, and there was a fair attendance in the body of the hall, although, having regard to the high reputation in which Mr. Rogers is deservedly held, as well for his ability as for his readiness in the theatre, the attendance was not so large as might have been expected. In addition to his services in the band, Mr. Rogers played the clarinet obligato in the "Gracie Aguero" and "The Kiss of the Rose," and in the "Old Maid's Lullaby," rendered by Miss Williams. Under the skillful direction of the bandmaster (Mr. G. D. Dwyer) the Volunteer Band performed in a most effective and admirable style, the creature from "Fra Diavolo" and a selection from "Marino Faliero." Some passages, however, were spoiled, owing to the fact that the hall was not properly indicated to the bandmaster, and the absence of Mr. De Hagn necessitated some deviations from the published programme, but this appeared to be more than compensated for by the presence of the "Gracie Aguero," which, in addition to the pieces allotted to him and Signor Dwyer, was the enthusiasm of the audience, and was given with naturalness and force not often surpassed. "Hooded in the cradle of the deep," and a "Frenzied breeze," were sung by Mr. Andrew Fairfax, whose descriptive power was fully exemplified by the calm repose on the one, and the restrained exhilaration of the other. In conclusion, Mr. Jones, who also sang Wallace's duet, "O Fair Wind," and the last named article, won the cordial approval of the audience by her singing of the plaintive ballad, "I will mind my wheel." The most charming and accomplished solo soloists in the most charming and accomplished manner, and Messrs. Smith and Green also very materially contributed to the success of the concert by their abilities.

No. 6 Battery.—R. J. Bullock, Esq., will sell by auction, at Moore's Wharf, this day, at 11 o'clock, at the store of Messrs. Jones & Co., at 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 510, 511, 512, 513, 514, 515, 516, 517, 518, 519, 520, 521, 522, 523, 524, 525, 526, 527, 528, 529, 530, 531, 532, 533, 534, 535, 536, 537, 538, 539, 540, 541, 542, 543, 544, 545, 546, 547, 548, 549, 550, 551, 552, 553, 554, 555, 556, 557, 558, 559, 560, 561, 562, 563, 564, 565, 566, 567, 568, 569, 570, 571, 572, 573, 574, 575, 576, 577, 578, 579, 580, 581, 582, 583, 584, 585, 586, 587, 588, 589, 590, 591, 592, 593, 594, 595, 596, 597, 598, 599, 600, 601, 602, 603, 604, 605, 606, 607, 608, 609, 610, 611, 612, 613, 614, 615, 616, 617, 618, 619, 620, 621, 622, 623, 624, 625, 626, 627, 628, 629, 630, 631, 632, 633, 634, 635, 636, 637, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643, 644, 645, 646, 647, 648, 649, 650, 651, 652, 653, 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690, 691, 692, 693, 694, 695, 696, 697, 698, 699, 700, 701, 702, 703, 704, 705, 706, 707, 708, 709, 710, 711, 712, 713, 714, 715, 716, 717, 718, 719, 720, 721, 722, 723, 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812, 813, 814, 815, 816, 817, 818, 819, 820, 821, 822, 823, 824, 825, 826, 827, 828, 829, 830, 831, 832, 833, 834, 835, 836, 837, 838, 839, 840, 841, 842, 843, 844, 845, 846, 847, 848, 849, 850, 851, 852, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 863, 864, 865, 866, 867, 868, 869, 870, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 881, 882, 883, 884, 885, 886, 887, 888, 889, 890, 891, 892, 893, 894, 895, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900, 901, 902, 903, 904, 905, 906, 907, 908, 909, 910, 911, 912, 913, 914, 915, 916, 917, 918, 919, 920, 921, 922, 923, 924, 925, 926, 927, 928, 929, 930, 931, 932, 933, 934, 935, 936, 937, 938, 939, 940, 941, 942, 943, 944, 945, 946, 947, 948, 949, 950, 951, 952, 953, 954, 955, 956, 957, 958, 959, 960, 961, 962, 963, 964, 965, 966, 967, 968, 969, 970, 971, 972, 973, 974, 975, 976, 977, 978, 979, 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 994, 995, 996, 997, 998, 999, 1000.

ALEXANDRA
WITH THE
ENGLISH MAIL
PER GEELONG.
NEWS TO JUNE 11.

(A portion of the following was published in a second edition of the Herald, issued yesterday, at 6.30 p.m.)

[FROM OUR KING GEORGE'S SOUND SPECIAL TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENT.]

ADELAIDE, July 5, 2 p.m.
The Alexandra reached Glenelg at 2 p.m.; having been ninety-one hours from the Sound.

The outward trip was the roughest and longest she ever had, namely, 133 hours; she reached the Sound on the morning of the 27th, at 5 o'clock. The Avoca followed eleven hours later, seven days out from Melbourne, having encountered similar weather; she started on the 28th of June, in the morning.

The Geelong arrived on the 1st of July, before midday; she left Galle on the 16th of June, and was to leave the Sound at 10 p.m.

The Alexandra started at 1 o'clock on the 1st of July on her return trip, and met with light head winds.

GENERAL SUMMARY.
LONDON, MAY 24TH.

The Australian March mail was delivered in London on May 16th.

The Queen gave a State concert at Buckingham Palace, at which nearly 700 guests were invited. Her Majesty has gone to Balmoral.

The Prince and Princess of Wales arrived in London on May 12th, and are now at Sandringham.

Prince Arthur's Irish tour is finished. The Royal family visited the Royal Academy Exhibition, which was opened in the new building at Burlington House, on June 3rd; Trafalgar Square is now wholly given up to the National Gallery.

The Owl reports that the new colonial order of St. Michael is to be conferred on Earls Derby, Grey, Russell, and Monck, as ex-Colonial Secretaries; and Knights Commanders on Lord Lytton, Rogers, Peel, Elliot, Henry, and Taylor.

An application has been granted by the Court of Chancery to transfer £8,000,000 of Consols in the Bank of England, Crown property of Hanover, to the trustees for the ex-King.

The Royal book "Our Life in the Highlands," realised £2500, which has been invested for a University scholarship.

The natives of Balmoral district in the City Council, have resolved to erect a memorial in London, to the Prince Consort, at the western end of Guildhall.

Dr. Russell is preparing the Nile trip of the Prince of Wales for immediate publication.

The Greek papers are suspended for two months for a scandalous libel on the Prince of Wales.

The greatest political event of the month is Sumner's speech in the American Senate, on the Alabama Treaty, which led to the rejection of the Treaty by the Senate, it was made a special order that it be printed. The speech appeared in full in the New York papers, and caused much apprehension in England, owing to the suspicion that it expressed President Grant's policy, and the fact that it appeared to be well received by Americans. It accuses England of occasioning the prolongation of the war through the premature recognition and moral support given to the Confederates, and assessed the damages on this ground at five hundred millions sterling, but hinted that Canada might suffice as a quid pro quo. The Canadian Legislature immediately took up the challenge; Galt, late Premier, made an important speech, reviewing the mutual conduct of the Canadians and Federals during the war, and declared that the Dominion would support the mother country with all its resources, should the designs of the United States necessitate such a course.

Goldwin Smith's letter to the Beehive says, "Sumner's speech had so great an effect in reviving the hostility of Americans to England, and placed the continuance of friendly relations between the two countries in such peril, that the promoters of English immigration cannot for the present turn their thoughts towards America." Judging from his personal knowledge of the American temper, he fears no actual rupture, but circumstances might arise to compel the English to leave the country.

Reverdy Johnson left England on May 20th, the week before Mr. Motley was expected.

In reply to a farewell address of the Borough Council of Southampton, he said that from the moment he arrived in England to the present time he had endeavoured to cultivate a friendly feeling towards the United States, and he had reason to believe that he had not failed; he should leave England with the conviction that her people and Government considered war the most dire calamity that could befall the two countries, and he had no doubt the same conviction would be felt by the Government and people of the United States.

At the anniversary meeting of the Peace Society, the speakers contended that Sumner's speech, as summarised in the English Press, conveyed a false impression; the claim was not intended to be made for five hundred millions, but only the proportion due to the protraction of the war. Newman Hall's estimate was two hundred millions, and another speaker twenty-five millions, besides eight millions caused by the Alabama depredations.

Mr. Bright, having said there would be no peace in Ireland until land to a much larger extent was in the hands of the people, the Marquis of Salisbury, in the House of Lords, asked whether the words were used ministerially. Earl Granville replied that Mr. Bright had committed an indiscretion, and spoke only for himself; the Government would introduce no Irish Land Bill this session. Subsequently Earl Russell revived the question, when Earl Derby asserted that Mr. Bright's language had a most evil effect. He compared Mr. Bright to the Mayor of Cork, saying, "Their official character invested their words with importance."

The O'Farrell papers were moved for by Mr. Newdegate. The Government at first agreed to produce them, but afterwards asked the House to rescind the order, on the ground that an investigation of the papers proved it undesirable to identify the House with their publication. Mr. Monnell described Mr. Parkes's private interviews with O'Farrell, the short-hand notes, his obtaining documents from a member of the succeeding Ministry and presenting them to the Assembly as a private member, and said the Imperial Government having deliberately considered the matter, considered it improper for the Commons to identify itself therewith. Mr. Newdegate made a long speech, and read numerous extracts from the papers, intending to prove that O'Farrell was tampered with by the priests into making a confession that no conspiracy existed. Mr. Whalley, in supporting him, alluded to the speech of Sir G. Grey on New Zealand, in which he stated that Roman Catholic priests instigated the Maoris to rebellion. The order for the production of the papers was rescinded by a majority of 108; the impression in England is that motives of delicacy towards the Royal family influenced the Government in the refusal.

Ireland is in a very excited and unsatisfactory state; Mr. O'Sullivan, Mayor of Cork, presided at a supper given to the released Fenians, Warren and Costello; and said he hoped the time was not far distant when no foreign nation would be dominant in Ireland, with armies and navies. When that noble Irishman O'Farrell died at the Prince he was embued with patriotic feelings, and that Larkin, Allen, and O'Brien would be as much thought of as any who sacrificed their lives for Ireland. Mr. O'Sullivan further compared O'Farrell with the Pole who shot at the Emperor of Russia in Paris, adding that he was probably actuated by the same noble impulses as the Pole, and that the Irishman was impelled by the same sentiments to do what he did. The Town Council demanded O'Sullivan's explanation, otherwise they would not sit with him. At the police court the magistrates refused to recognise him.

At a special meeting of the city magistrates, a resolution was passed, urging the Government to adopt measures to protect life and ally the general feeling of insecurity.

On inquiry in Parliament, Mr. Gladstone intimated that a bill to remove the Mayor would be introduced. After the first reading, O'Sullivan came to London and wrote a letter to his friend, O'Donoghue, stating that the words were misunderstood, and announcing that he had resigned. The bill is suspended for the present, but will be resumed should O'Sullivan be re-elected, which is possible. Cork is wildly agitated in O'Sullivan's favour.

At a riot in Londonderry, on Prince Arthur's visit, besides two shot, several persons were wounded. Martial law has since been proclaimed in the district.

A vacancy having occurred for Youghal, O'Sullivan has announced his intention to stand. Ferris, arrested in Cork on suspicion of robbery under arms, was surrounded by a crowd, and escaped.

O'Connell's remains are to be removed to Dublin, to alter his tomb at Glasnevin cemetery, raised in commemoration of the Liberator. The programme is published of a splendid ceremonial.

The Fenian Amnesty Committee in Dublin have sent $500 to Australia for the thirty-four liberated Fenians at Swan River.

Lawson's Permissive Liquor Bill was thrown out by 109.

The Polynesian slave trade is again before Parliament.

A select committee is appointed on the Game Laws.

In Scotland a Court of Exchequer has been established.

ENGLISH MAIL

PER GEELONG.

NEWS TO JUNE 11.

(A portion of the following was published in a second edition of the Herald, issued yesterday, at 6.30 p.m.)

[FROM OUR KING GEORGE'S SOUND SPECIAL TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENT.]

ADELAIDE, July 5, 2 p.m.
The Alexandra reached Glenelg at 2 p.m.; having been ninety-one hours from the Sound.

The outward trip was the roughest and longest she ever had, namely, 133 hours; she reached the Sound on the morning of the 27th, at 5 o'clock. The Avoca followed eleven hours later, seven days out from Melbourne, having encountered similar weather; she started on the 28th of June, in the morning.

The Geelong arrived on the 1st of July, before midday; she left Galle on the 16th of June, and was to leave the Sound at 10 p.m.

The Alexandra started at 1 o'clock on the 1st of July on her return trip, and met with light head winds.

The Greek papers are suspended for two months for a scandalous libel on the Prince of Wales.

The greatest political event of the month is Sumner's speech in the American Senate, on the Alabama Treaty, which led to the rejection of the Treaty by the Senate, it was made a special order that it be printed. The speech appeared in full in the New York papers, and caused much apprehension in England, owing to the suspicion that it expressed President Grant's policy, and the fact that it appeared to be well received by Americans. It accuses England of occasioning the prolongation of the war through the premature recognition and moral support given to the Confederates, and assessed the damages on this ground at five hundred millions sterling, but hinted that Canada might suffice as a quid pro quo. The Canadian Legislature immediately took up the challenge; Galt, late Premier, made an important speech, reviewing the mutual conduct of the Canadians and Federals during the war, and declared that the Dominion would support the mother country with all its resources, should the designs
